Article III. Violations of the SCoC

The following acts or omissions to act may constitute violations of the SCoC. These sections are not inclusive, and students are subject to additional rules and regulations of Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. Students who attempt to undermine or exploit the SCoC may be charged under the code accordingly.

Student Conduct in Relation to Federal, State and Local Law

Student Conduct & Community Standards may issue SCoC charges against a student charged with a violation of a law. (For example, one incident may result in a student being held liable in both a criminal and student conduct process/proceeding.) Proceedings under this SCoC may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings.

When a student is charged by federal, state or local authorities with a violation of law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual because of their status as a student. However, if the alleged offense is also the subject of a SCoC proceeding the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the SCoC process and of how such matters will be handled by the University. The University will cooperate with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of civil and criminal law on campus. Individual students, staff and faculty members, acting in their personal capacities, may cooperate with governmental agencies representatives as they deem appropriate.

Prohibited Conduct

The following actions, or the aiding, abetting, inciting of, or attempt to commit these actions, may constitute violations of the SCoC. Any student found to have committed or to have attempted to commit the following prohibited conduct is subject to the conduct sanction(s) outlined in Article VIII of the SCoC.

Specific violations of the SCoC include, but are not limited to:

1. Academic Misconduct: engaging in an act that violates the standards of the academic integrity policy as described in the SCoC and Student Academic Misconduct Cases. Any behavior specifically prohibited by a faculty member in the course syllabus or class discussion may be considered as academic misconduct. Additionally, possessing, using, buying, stealing, transporting, selling or soliciting in whole or in part items including, but not limited to the contents of an unadministered test, test key, homework solutions or possession at any time of current or previous test materials without the instructor’s permission will be considered academic misconduct. The following charges are specific violations of Academic Misconduct under the SCoC:

   a. Cheating: using, attempting to use, or acquiring unauthorized materials, information, notes, study aids or other devices or materials in any academic exercise.

      Examples:
      - Copying from another student’s paper or receiving unauthorized assistance during a quiz, test or examination.
      - Using books, notes or other devices (e.g. calculators, cell phones, or computers) when these are not authorized.
      - The acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the University faculty or staff.
      - Unauthorized collaboration on assignments or exams.
b. Plagiarism: presenting the work of another as one’s own without proper acknowledgement of the source, or reusing your own work without citation. An exception exists for information that is generally accepted as common knowledge.

Examples:
- Using another’s work from print, web or other sources without acknowledging the source.
- Quoting from a source without citation.
- Using facts, figures, graphs, charts or information without acknowledgement of the source.
- Using a past assignment(s) the student has completed as a portion of a new assignment(s), without providing citation. Please note that without instructor permission this is also considered a multiple submission violation.

c. Multiple Submissions: submission of the same work (including oral reports) for credit more than once without authorization from the current instructor for which the student submits the work.

Examples:
- Submitting the same paper for credit in two courses without current instructor permission.
- Making minor revisions in a credited paper or report (including oral presentations) and submitting it again as if it were new work.

d. Collusion: Helping or attempting to help another to commit an act of academic dishonesty. This includes, but is not limited to, the unauthorized collaboration with another individual in progressing forward on academic assignments.

Examples:
- Knowingly allowing another to copy from one’s paper during an examination or test.
- Distributing test questions or substantive information about the material to be tested before a scheduled exercise.
- Deliberately furnishing false information in regards to an academic integrity investigation.
- Working with another student on a take home test or other academic assignments without permission from the instructor.
- Discussing the contents of a completed exam or other assignments with a student who will take the exam or complete the assignment in the future.

e. Fabrication, Falsification, or Misrepresentation: Altering or inventing of any information or citation that is used in assessing academic work.

Examples:
- Inventing, counterfeiting or omitting data and/or results such that the research is not accurately represented in the research record.
- Falsely citing the source of information.
• Altering the record of or reporting false information about the practicum or clinical experiences.
• Altering grade reports or other academic records.

2. Endangerment:
   a. Committing or threatening to commit any act of violence or bodily harm.
   b. Negligent, unintentional, or indirect action(s) that endanger the health, safety, or well-being of one’s self or others.

3. Brawling: Individuals willfully participating in, or contributing to, an incident of physical attack.

4. Harassment: Conduct including, but not limited to, physical, verbal, graphic, written, or electronic behavior that is sufficiently severe, pervasive or persistent so as to unreasonably interfere with, deny or limit someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s educational programs, services and/or activities. This includes, but is not limited to, behavior that is aggressive in nature and intended to hurt and/or control another individual (see University Rules and Procedures 34.01.99.C1).

5. Stalking: Behavior in which an individual willingly, maliciously, and repeatedly engages in a knowing course of conduct directed at a specific person and/or group which reasonably and seriously alarms, torments, or terrorizes the person(s). This conduct makes the victim fear:
   a. Bodily injury or death of self.
   b. Bodily injury or death of another individual.
   c. That an offense will be committed against their property.

6. Use of Force (physical or non-physical): Behaviors used to obtain a desired outcome or behavior from another individual and/or group. May include, but are not limited to: physical violence, the threat of violence, intimidation, implied threats, coercion and/or blackmail.

7. Retaliation: Any behavior and/or adverse action taken against a person and/or group because of participation or perceived participation in a report, complaint or investigation.

8. Dating/Intimate Partner Violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim.

9. Domestic Violence: The willful intimidation, physical assault, battery, sexual assault, and/or other abusive behavior perpetrated by a person with whom: the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim.

10. Sexual Misconduct: Behavior and/or action that includes but is not limited to:
    a. Sexual Harassment: Unwelcome, gender-based verbal or physical conduct that is sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive that it has the effect of unreasonably interfering with, denying or limiting someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s education program, services and/or activities.
b. Non-Consensual Sexual Contact: Any intentional sexual touching, however slight, with any object, by a man or a woman upon a man or a woman that is without consent and/or by force.

c. Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse/Sexual Assault: Any sexual intercourse, however slight, with any object, by a man or woman upon a man or woman that is without consent and/or by force.

d. Sexual Exploitation: Taking non-consensual sexual advantage of another individual to benefit or advantage anyone other than the one being exploited and that behavior does not otherwise constitute one of the other sexual misconduct offenses. Behaviors which may be included in this category include, but are not limited to: invasion of sexual privacy regardless of medium, prostituting another individual, non-consensual photography, video or audio-taping of sexual activity, going beyond the boundaries of consent, engaging in voyeurism, knowingly exposing someone to an STI or HIV to another person, exposing one’s genitals in non-consensual circumstances; inducing another to expose their genitals, sexually-based stalking and/or bullying.

Note: For the purpose of this process consent must be freely and actively given through mutually understood terms of actions. Silence, or the absence of yes, in and of itself, cannot be interpreted as consent. Previous relationships or prior consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts. A person is deemed incapable of giving consent when the person is: 1. a minor, 2. coerced, 3. physically helpless, 4. has a developmental disability, 5. under the influence of alcohol or drugs to the point of being unable to make a rational decision, 6. unconscious or 7. asleep. This list serves as an example and is not inclusive of all situations.

A person always retains the right to revoke consent through clear and direct verbal or non-verbal communication at any time during a sexual act. An individual who is physically or mentally incapacitated, blacked out, unconscious, or unaware that the sexual misconduct is occurring is considered unable to give consent.

11. Hazing: Any intentional, knowing, or reckless act, occurring on or off the campus of an educational institution, by one person alone or acting with others, directed against a student, that endangers the mental or physical health or safety of a student for the purpose of pledging, being initiated into, affiliating with, holding office in, or maintaining membership in an organization. The term includes, but is not limited to:

a. Any type of physical brutality, such as whipping, beating, striking, branding, electronic shocking, placing of a harmful substance on the body, or similar activity.

b. Any type of physical activity, such as sleep deprivation, exposure to the elements, and confinement in a small space, calisthenics, or other activity that subjects the student to an unreasonable risk of harm or that adversely affects the mental or physical health or safety of the student.

c. Any activity involving consumption of a food, liquid, alcoholic beverage, liquor, drug, or other substance that subjects the student to an unreasonable risk of harm or that adversely affects the mental or physical health or safety of the student.

d. Any activity that intimidates or threatens the student with ostracism, that subjects the student to extreme mental stress, shame, or humiliation, that adversely affects the mental health or dignity of the student or discourages the student from entering or remaining registered in an educational institution, or that may reasonably be expected to cause a student to leave the organization or the institutions rather than submit to acts described in this subdivision.

e. Any activity that induces, causes, or requires the student to perform a duty or task that involves a violation of the Texas Education Code Sec. 37.152 and 37.153.

• The intent of the act, or the consent or cooperation of the hazing recipient, will not constitute a defense. The University may charge an individual and/or the officers of a recognized organization with responsibility for the hazing act(s) both on or off-campus. Hazing is also a violation of Texas state law. See the Texas Education Code, sections 37.151 and 51.936 at www.stophazing.org/laws/tx_law.htm. A person may be found guilty of criminal conduct for hazing, encouraging hazing, permitting hazing, or having knowledge of the planning of hazing incidents and failing to report in writing their knowledge to the Dean of Students or other appropriate institutional official.

Note: Texas law provides any person reporting a specific hazing incident to the Dean of Students, University Police Department or other appropriate institutional official is immune from civil and criminal liability unless the report is in bad faith or malicious.
